Liability of the Crown in tort

4. (1) Subject to this Act, the Crown shall be subject to all those liabilities in tort to which, if it were a private person of full age and capacity, it would be subject—

(3) Where the Crown is bound by a statutory duty which is binding also upon persons other than the Crown and its officers, then, subject to this Act, the Crown shall, in respect of a failure to comply with that duty, be subject to all those liabilities in tort (if any) to which it would be so subject if it were a private person of full age and capacity.

(4) Where any functions are conferred or imposed upon an officer of the Crown as such either by any rule of the common law or by statute, and that officer commits a tort while performing or purporting to perform those functions, the liabilities of the Crown in respect of the tort shall be such as they would have been if those functions had been conferred or imposed solely by virtue of instructions lawfully given by the Crown.

(6) No proceedings shall lie against the Crown by virtue of this section in respect of anything done or omitted to be done by any person while discharging or purporting to discharge any responsibilities of a judicial nature vested in him, or any responsibilities which he has in connection with the execution of judicial process.

(2) Any reference in this section to the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1894 to 1940 of the United Kingdom, which limit the amount of the liability of owners of ships shall be construed as including a reference to any provision of those Acts which negatives the liability of the owner of a ship and accordingly any reference in this section to limiting the liability of any person shall be construed as including a reference to negating his liability.

conditions as are prescribed by Post Office Regulations in relation to registered inland postal packets have been complied with in relation to that packet.

(3) For the purposes of any proceedings under subsection (2), it shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, that the loss of or damage to the packet was due to some wrongful act done, or some neglect or default committed, by a person employed as a servant or agent of the Crown while performing or purporting to perform his functions as such in relation to the receipt, carriage, delivery or other dealing with the packet.

(4) Subject to subsection (5), no relief shall be available under subsection (2) except upon a claim by the sender or the addressee of the packet in question; and the sender or addressee of the packet shall be entitled to claim any relief available under the said subsection in respect of the packet, whether or not he is the person damnified by the injury complained of, and to give a good discharge in respect of all claims made in relation to the packet under the said subsection.

(5) Where the court is satisfied, upon an application by any person who is not the sender or addressee of the packet, that the sender and the addressee are unable or unwilling to enforce their remedies in respect of the packet under the said subsection, the court may, upon such terms as to security for costs and otherwise as the court thinks just, allow that other person to bring proceedings under the said subsection in the name of the sender or the addressee of the packet.

(6) Any reference in subsections (4) and (5) to the sender or addressee of the packet includes a reference to his personal representatives.

(7) Where by virtue of subsection (5) any person recovers any money or property which, apart from that subsection, would have been recoverable by some other person, the money or property so recovered shall be held on trust for that person.

(8) Post Office Regulations may be made for prescribing the conditions to be observed for the purposes of this section in relation to registered inland postal packets.

13. (1) Nothing done or omitted to be done by a member of the armed forces of the Crown while on duty as such shall subject either that member or the Crown to liability in tort for causing the death or personal injury to another member of the said forces, in so far as the death or personal injury is due to anything suffered by that other member while he is a member of such forces if— Provisions relating to the armed forces

(a) at the time when that thing is suffered by that other member, he is either on duty as a member of such forces or is, though not on duty as such, on any land, premises, ship, aircraft or vehicle for the time being used for the purposes of such forces; and

(b) the Minister certifies that the suffering of that thing by such other member has been or will be treated as attributable to service for the purposes of entitlement to a gratuity or pension under any enactment relating to the disablement or death of members of the force of which he is a member.

(2) Subsection (1) does not exempt a member of the said forces from liability in tort in any case in which the court is satisfied that the act or omission was not connected with the execution of his duties as a member of those forces.

(3) No proceedings in tort shall lie against the Crown for death or personal injury due to anything suffered by a member of the armed forces of the Crown if—

(a) that thing is suffered by him in consequence of the nature or condition of any such land, premises, ship, aircraft or vehicle as aforesaid, or in consequence of the nature or condition of any equipment or supplies used for the purposes of those forces; and

(b) the Minister certifies as mentioned in subsection (1), nor shall any act or omission of an officer of the Crown subject him to liability in tort for death or personal injury, in so far as the death or personal injury is due to anything suffered by a member of the armed forces of the Crown being a thing as to which the conditions aforesaid are satisfied.

(4) The Minister, if satisfied that it is the fact—

(a) that a person was or was not on any particular occasion on duty as a member of the armed forces of the Crown; or

(b) that at any particular time any land, premises, ship, aircraft, vehicle, equipment or supplies was or was not, or were or were not, used for the purposes of the said forces, respect of Act under prerogative and statutory

abridge any powers or authorities exercisable by the Crown, whether in time of peace or of war, for the purpose of the defence of the realm or of training, or maintaining the efficiency of, any of the armed forces of the Crown.

(2) Where in any proceedings under this Act, it is material to determine whether anything was properly done or omitted to be done in the exercise of the prerogative of the Crown, the Minister may, if satisfied that the act or omission was necessary for any purpose mentioned in subsection (1), issue a certificate to the effect that the act or omission was necessary for that purpose; and the certificate shall, in those proceedings, be conclusive as to the matter so certified.

(2) Where under subsection (1) any proceedings have been removed into the High Court on the production of such a certificate as aforesaid, and it appears to the court by which the proceedings are tried that the removal has occasioned additional expense to the person by whom the proceedings are brought, the court may take account of the additional expense so occasioned in exercising its powers in regard to the award of costs.

(3) Without prejudice to the rights of the Crown under subsection (1), all rules of law and enactments relating to the removal or transfer of proceedings from a petty civil court to the High Court, or the transfer of proceedings from the High Court to a petty civil court, shall apply in relation to proceedings against the Crown, so that, however—

(2) Where any costs are awarded to or against the Crown in the High Court, interest shall be payable upon those costs unless the court otherwise orders, and any interest so payable shall be at the same rate as that at which interest is payable upon judgment debts due from or to the Crown.

(4) This section shall apply both in relation to proceedings pending at the commencement of this Act and in relation to proceedings instituted thereafter.

27. (1) Where in any civil proceedings by or against the Crown or in any proceedings analogous to proceedings on the Crown side of the Queen's Bench Division in England or in connection with any arbitration to which the Crown is a party, any order (including an order for costs) is made by any court in favour of any person against the Crown, the proper officer of the court shall, on an application in that behalf made by or on behalf of that person at any time after the expiration of twenty-one days from the date of the order or, in case the order provides for the payment of costs and the costs require to be taxed, at any time after the costs have been taxed, whichever is the later, issue to that person a certificate in the prescribed form containing particulars of the order; but if the court so directs, a separate certificate shall be issued with respect to the costs (if any) ordered to be paid to the applicant. Satisfaction of orders against the Crown

(2) A copy of any certificate issued under this section may be served by the person in whose favour the order is made upon the person for the time being named in the record as the solicitor, or as the person acting as solicitor, for the Crown.

(3) If the order provides for the payment of any money by way of damages or otherwise, or of any costs, the certificate shall state the amount so payable, and the Accountant General shall, subject as hereinafter provided, pay to the person entitled or where he is represented by a solicitor to his solicitor the amount appearing by the certificates to be due to him together with the interest, if any, lawfully due thereon; but the court by which any such order as aforesaid is made or any court to which an appeal against the order lies may direct that, pending an appeal or otherwise, payment of the whole of any amount so payable, or any part thereof, shall be suspended, and if the certificate has not been issued may order any such directions to be inserted therein.

(4) Except as provided in this section, no execution or attachment or process in the nature thereof shall be issued out of any court for enforcing payment by the Crown of any such money or costs as aforesaid, and no person shall be individually liable under any order for the payment by the Crown of any such money or costs.

Ch. 6. No. 3

(3) Sections 3 and 4 of the Debtors Ordinance, (which provide respectively for the abolition of imprisonment for debt, and for saving the power of committal in case of small debts), shall apply to sums of money payable and debts due to the Crown; but for the purpose of the application of the said section 3 to any sum of money payable or debt due to the Crown, the section shall have effect as if there were included among the exceptions therein mentioned default in payment of any sum payable in respect of death duties.
