19 of 1994].

3. - (f) is the daughter of a father who has been convicted of an offence under section 6 or section 12 of the Sexual Offences Act, in respect of any of his daughters;
- (g) frequents the company of any reputed thief, or of any common or reputed prostitute; or
- (h) is lodging or residing in a house or the part of a house used by any prostitute for the purposes of prostitution, or is otherwise living in circumstances calculated to cause, encourage, or favour the seduction or prostitution of the child, and the Magistrate before whom a person is brought as coming within one of these descriptions, if satisfied on enquiry of that fact, and that it is expedient so to deal with him, may order him to be sent to a certified Orphanage; but a child shall not be treated as coming within the description contained in paragraph (g) if the only common or reputed prostitute whose company the child frequents is the mother of the child, and she exercises proper guardianship and due care to protect the child from contamination.

Detention of child under ten years of age in Orphanage.

(2) Where a child apparently under the age of ten years is charged before the High Court or before a Magistrate with an offence punishable in the case of an adult by imprisonment or a less punishment, the Court, if satisfied on enquiry that it is expedient so to deal with the child, may order him to be sent to a certified Orphanage.

Child of ten or eleven years may be sent to Orphanage in lieu of Industrial School.

(3) Where a child, apparently of the age of ten or eleven years, who has not previously been convicted, is charged before a Magistrate with an offence punishable in the case of an adult by imprisonment or a less punishment, and the Magistrate is satisfied that the child should be sent to a certified school but, having regard to the special circumstances of the case, should not be sent to a certified Industrial School, and is also satisfied that the character and antecedents of the child are such that he will not exercise an evil influence over the other children in a certified Orphanage, the Magistrate may order the child to be sent to a certified Orphanage, having previously ascertained that the managers are willing to receive the child; but where the Magistrate so orders the Minister may, on the application of the managers of the Orphanage, by order transfer the child to a certified Industrial School.

(4) (a) Where a parent or guardian of a child proves to a Magistrate that he is unable to control the child, and that he desires the child to be sent to an Orphanage under this Part, the Magistrate, if satisfied on enquiry that it is expedient so to deal with the child, and that the parent or guardian understands the results which will follow, may order him to be sent to a certified Orphanage.

control child.

(b) However, if the Magistrate thinks that it is expedient that the child instead of being sent to a certified Orphanage should be placed under the supervision of a probation officer, the Magistrate may deal with him in like manner as, if he had been charged with an offence, the Magistrate might have dealt with him under the Probation of Offenders Act, so however, that the recognisance on entering into which he is discharged shall bind him to appear for having a detention order made against him.

Probation in lieu of detention order.

Ch. 13:51.

(5) Where, under this section, a Court is empowered to order a child to be sent to a certified Orphanage, the Court, in lieu of ordering him to be so sent, may, in accordance with the provisions of Part I, make an order for the committal of the child to the care of a relative or other fit person named by the Court, and the provisions of that Part shall, so far as applicable, apply as if the order were an order under that Part.

Committal to care of relative.

45. Any person may bring before a Magistrate any person apparently of the age of fourteen or fifteen years so circumstanced that if he were a child he would come within one or other of the descriptions mentioned in section 44(1), and the Magistrate, if satisfied on enquiry of that fact and that it is expedient so to deal with him, may, in accordance with the provisions of Part I, make an order for his committal to the care of a relative or other fit person named by the Magistrate, and the provisions of that Part shall, so far as applicable, apply as if the order were an order under that Part.

Committal of

care of relative or fit person in certain cases.

In such cases, young persons may be placed under supervision of probation officer. [40 of 1961]. Ch. 13:51.

46. Where, under the provisions of this Part, an order is made for the committal of a child or young person to the care of a relative or other fit person named by the Court, the Court may, in addition to such order, make an order under the Probation of Offenders Act that the child or young person be placed under the supervision of a welfare officer (probation) provided that the recognisance into which the child, if not charged with an offence, or the young person is required to enter, shall bind him to appear and submit to the further order of the Court.

Operation of order may be deferred.

47. An order of a Court ordering a youthful offender or child to be sent to and detained in a certified school (in this Act referred to as a detention order) may, if the Court thinks fit, be made to take effect either immediately or at any later date specified therein, regard being had to the age or health of the youthful offender or child.

Choice of school.

48. (1) The school to which a youthful offender or child is to be sent under a detention order shall be such school as may be specified in the order, being, in the case of a certified Orphanage, some school, the managers of which are willing to receive the youthful offender or child.

(2) Pending the receipt of the approval or direction of the Minister, where required under this Part, the youthful offender or child in respect of whom a detention order has been made, by direction of the Court by which such order was made, be detained either in a place of detention or in the custody of any person named by the Court, and the provisions of this Part with respect to the detention of youthful offenders or children under a detention order shall apply to an offender or child directed to be detained as aforesaid.

Conveyance to school.

49. (1) The person by whom any youthful offender or child ordered to be sent to a certified school is detained shall, at the appointed time, deliver him into the custody of the constable responsible for his conveyance to school, who shall deliver him to the superintendent or other person in charge of the school in which he is to be detained, together with the order or other document in pursuance of which the offender or child was detained and is sent to the school.

(2) The detention order in pursuance of which the youthful offender or child is sent to a certified school shall be a sufficient authority for his conveyance to and detention in the school, or any other school to which he is transferred under this Part.

Detention order effective on transfer.

50. The detention order shall specify the time for which the youthful offender or child is to be detained in the school, being—

Period of detention.

- (a) in the case of a youthful offender sent to an Industrial School, until such offender attains the age of eighteen years. However, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the managers of a certified Industrial School and with the consent of such offender, make an order extending the time of detention in the case of a female until she attains the age of twenty-one years; and
- (b) in the case of a child sent to an Orphanage, until such child attains the age of sixteen years. However, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the managers of a certified Orphanage and with the consent of such child, make an order extending the time of detention in the case of a male until he attains the age of eighteen years and in the case of a female until she attains the age of twenty-one years.

51. (1) The High Court or a Magistrate, in determining the school to which a youthful offender or child is to be sent, shall endeavour to ascertain the religious persuasion to which the offender or child belongs, and the detention order shall, where practicable, specify the religious persuasion to which the offender or child appears to belong, and a school conducted in accordance with that persuasion shall, where practicable, be selected.

(3) Where an order has been made for sending a youthful offender or child to a certified school which is not conducted in accordance with the religious persuasion to which the offender or child belongs, the parent, step-parent, or guardian, or, if there be no parent, step-parent, or guardian, then the god-parent or nearest adult relative may apply—

(a) if the detention order was made by a Magistrate, then to such Magistrate; and

(b) in any other case, to the Minister, to remove or send the offender or child to a certified school conducted in accordance with the offender's or child's religious persuasion, and the Magistrate or Minister, as the case may be, shall, on proof of the offender's or child's religious persuasion, comply with the request of the applicant.

Application within thirty days.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (3)—

(a) the application must be made before the offender or child has been sent to a certified school, or within thirty days after his arrival at the school;

(b) the applicant must show to the satisfaction of the Magistrate or Minister that the managers of the school named by him are willing to receive the offender or child.

(5) Nothing in subsection (4) shall be construed as preventing any such person as mentioned above from making an application to the Minister after the expiration of the said period of thirty days to exercise the powers of transfer conferred upon him by the other provisions of this Act.

When no school

52. If there is no school in Trinidad and Tobago conducted in accordance with the religious persuasion of any youthful offender or child, and the High Court or Magistrate is by reason thereof unable to choose a school, then and in such case the youthful offender or child shall be sent to such school as the Minister may direct, or as may be prescribed for such cases by rules made under the authority of this Part.

53. The parent or guardian, or if there is no parent or guardian, then the godparent or nearest adult relative, of any youthful offender or child directed to be sent to a school which is not conducted according to the religious persuasion of the youthful offender or child, may claim, by notice in writing addressed to the managers of the school, the exemption of the youthful offender or child from attending prayer, or religious worship, or from any lesson or series of lessons on a religious subject, and the youthful offender or child shall be exempted accordingly.

Exemption from religious instruction, etc.

54. It shall be the duty of the managers to submit such notice to the Inspector for his information and guidance, and the managers shall, in every such case, make proper provision for enabling any such youthful offender or child to attend divine worship at his church or place of worship and to receive religious instruction according to the doctrines or formularies of the denomination, church, or sect to which he may belong.

Manager to submit notice claiming exemption to Inspector.

55. (1) If the managers of any school permit or suffer any youthful offender or child to attend prayer or religious worship, or to be taught any particular religious doctrine, from the attendance at which, or from the teaching of which, any exemption has been claimed by notice as provided in section 53, the Inspector shall make full enquiry into the matter and report thereon to the Minister.

(3) The Minister may, by writing under his hand, order a youthful offender or child detained in a certified school to be transferred for medical treatment and care to a hospital or asylum, upon such terms and conditions and for such period as shall seem proper. When the Chief Medical Attendant of any hospital or asylum certifies under his hand to the Minister that any such youthful offender or child is in a fit state to be discharged therefrom, the Minister shall, by writing under his hand, order such youthful offender or child to be sent back to the certified school from which he was originally transferred, there to be detained until completion of his unexpired term in such school.

(3) Provision shall be made for preventing persons apparently under the age of sixteen years whilst being conveyed to or from Court, or whilst waiting before or after their attendance in Court, from associating with adults charged with any offence other than an offence with which the person apparently under the age of sixteen years is jointly charged.
