

Transfer of causes from harbour master to Vice-Admiralty Court.

2. Notwithstanding anything in the principal Ordinance, but subject to any general rules made under this section, the Judge of the Vice-Admiralty Court may at any stage of an admiralty cause instituted before a harbour master order the same to be transferred to the Vice-Admiralty Court.

The Judge of the Vice-Admiralty Court may make general orders regulating the procedure and practice in reference to transfers under this section.

All such general orders shall be published in the Royal Gazette and production of a copy of the Royal Gazette purporting to contain any such general orders shall be prima facie evidence of the due making and tenor thereof.

Power of harbour master to enforce orders.

3. Every harbour master shall for the purpose of enforcing any judgment or order have such powers of detaining and selling vessels and such other powers as are at the time of the giving of such judgment or the making of such order vested in the Vice-Admiralty Court or the Judge thereof.

Power to administer oaths.

4. Every harbour master shall in all Admiralty causes and in all other judicial proceedings before him have power to administer an oath.
