THE TEN PRINCIPLES OF THE ARYA SAMAJ.

1. Ishvara (God) is the ultimate cause of all that is known through physical and metaphysical sciences.

2. Ishvara is existent, intelligent and blissful. He is formless, omnipotent, just, merciful, unborn, endless, unchangeable, beginningless, unequalled, the support of all, the master of all, omnipresent, omniscient, immanent, unaging, immortal, fearless, eternal, holy and maker of all. He alone should be communicated with.

3. VEDAS are the scriptures of true knowledge. It is the first duty of Aryas to read them, teach them, recite them and hear them read.

4. One should always be ready to accept truth and give up untruth.

5. One should do everything according to the dictates of Dharma, e.g., after due reflection over right and wrong.

6. The primary object of this society is to do good to the whole world, i.e., to look to its physical, spiritual and social welfare.

7. One's dealing with all should be regulated by love and propriety, in accordance with the dictates of Dharma.

8. One should promote Vidya (knowledge) and dispel Avidya (ignorance).

9. One should not be content with one's own welfare alone, but should look for one's own welfare in the welfare of others.

10. Subject yourselves to altruistic rulings of society but consider yourselves free in doing any beneficial act.

Passed in Council this seventeenth day of December, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-three.
