(e) } (Deleted by Act No. 37 of 1989);
(f) }
 - (g) the stamp used for an instrument executed by any party thereto which—
 - (i) is afterwards found to be absolutely void from the beginning;
 - (ii) is afterwards found unfit, by reason of any error or mistake therein, for the purpose originally intended;
 - (iii) has not been made use of for any purpose whatever and which, by reason of the inability or refusal of some necessary party to sign the same or to complete the transaction according to the instrument, is incomplete and insufficient for the purpose for which it was intended;
 - (iv) by reason of the refusal of any person to act under the same, or for want of enrolment or registration within the time required by law, fails of the intended purpose or becomes void;
 - (v) is inadvertently and undesignedly spoiled, and in lieu whereof another instrument made between the same parties and for the same purpose is executed and duly stamped, or which becomes useless in consequence of the transaction intended to be thereby effected being effected by some other instrument duly stamped.

(2) (a) The application for an allowance under subsection (1) shall be made within two years after the stamp has been spoiled or becomes useless or, in the case of an executed instrument, after the date of the instrument or, if it is not dated, within two years after the execution thereof by the person by whom it was first or alone executed, or within such further time as the Board may prescribe in the case of any instrument sent abroad for execution, or when from unavoidable circumstances any instrument for which another has been substituted cannot be produced within the said period.

(b) In the case of an executed instrument, an allowance under subsection (1) shall only be made where no legal proceedings have been commenced in which the instrument could or would have been given or offered in evidence, and that the instrument is given up to be cancelled.

Allowance for misused stamps.

11. When any person has inadvertently used for an instrument liable to duty a stamp of greater value than was necessary, or has inadvertently used a stamp for an instrument not liable to any duty, the Board may, on application made within two years after the date of the instrument or, if it is not dated, within two years after the execution thereof by the person by whom it was first or alone executed, and upon the instrument, if liable to duty, being stamped with the proper duty, cancel and allow as spoiled the stamp so misused.

Allowance, how to be made.

12. In any case in which allowance is made for spoiled or misused stamps the Board may give in lieu thereof other stamps of the same denomination and value or, if required and the Board thinks proper, stamps of any other denomination to the same amount in value or, in its discretion, the same value in money, deducting therefrom the discount allowed on the purchase of stamps of the like description.

13. When any person is possessed of a stamp which has not been spoiled or rendered unfit or useless for the purpose intended, but for which he has no immediate use, the Board may, if it thinks fit, repay to him the value of the stamp in money, deducting the proper discount, upon his delivering up the stamp to be cancelled, and proving to the satisfaction of the Board that it was purchased by him at the chief office or at one of the head offices, or from some person duly appointed to sell and distribute stamps or duly licensed to deal in stamps, within the period of two years next preceding the application and with a bona fide intention to use it.

Stamps not wanted may be re-purchased by the Board.

CHARGE OF DUTY UPON INSTRUMENTS

14. (1) Every instrument written upon stamped material is to be written in such manner, and every instrument partly or wholly written before being stamped is to be so stamped, that the stamp cannot be used for or applied to any other instrument written upon the same piece of material.

How instruments are to be written and stamped.

(2) If more than one instrument is written upon the same piece of material, every one of the instruments is to be separately and distinctly stamped with the duty with which it is chargeable.

15. Except where express provision to the contrary is made by this or any other Act—

Instruments to be separately charged with duty in certain cases.

- (a) an instrument containing or relating to several distinct matters is to be separately and distinctly charged, as if it were a separate instrument, with duty in respect of each of the matters;
- (b) an instrument made for any consideration in respect whereof it is chargeable with ad valorem duty, and also for any further or other valuable consideration or considerations, is to be separately and distinctly charged, as if it were a separate instrument, with duty in respect of each of the considerations.

Facts and circumstances affecting duty to be set forth in instruments. [13 of 1958].

16. All the facts and circumstances affecting the liability of any instrument to duty, or the amount of the duty with which any instrument is chargeable, are to be fully and truly set forth in the instrument; and any person who, with intent to defraud the State—

- (a) executes any instrument in which all the said facts and circumstances are not fully and truly set forth; or
- (b) being employed or concerned in or about the preparation of any instrument, neglects or omits fully and truly to set forth therein all the said facts and circumstances, is liable to a fine of four hundred dollars.

Calculation of ad valorem duty in certain cases.

17. (1) Where an instrument is chargeable with ad valorem duty in respect of—

- (a) any money in any foreign or commonwealth currency; or
- (b) any stock or marketable security, the duty shall be calculated on the value, on the day of the date of the instrument, of the money in Trinidad and Tobago currency according to the current rate of exchange, or of the stock or security according to the average price thereof.

(2) Where an instrument contains a statement of current rate of exchange or average price, as the case may require, and is stamped in accordance with that statement, it is, so far as regards the subject matter of the statement, to be deemed duly stamped, unless or until it is shown that the statement is untrue, and that the instrument is in fact insufficiently stamped.

USE OF ADHESIVE STAMPS

Cancellation of adhesive stamps. [13 of 1958].

18. (1) An instrument, the duty upon which is required or permitted by law to be denoted by an adhesive stamp, is not to be deemed duly stamped with an adhesive stamp unless the person required by law to cancel the adhesive stamp cancels the same by writing on or across the stamp his name or initials, or the name or initials of his firm, together with the true date of his so writing, or otherwise effectively cancels the stamp and renders the same incapable of being used for any other instrument or for any postal purpose, or unless it is otherwise proved that the stamp appearing on the instrument was affixed thereto at the proper time.

(2) Where two or more adhesive stamps are used to denote the stamp duty upon an instrument, each or every stamp is to be cancelled in the manner aforesaid.

(3) Any person who, being required by law to cancel an adhesive stamp, neglects or refuses duly and effectually to do so in the manner aforesaid is liable to a fine of two hundred dollars.

DENOTING STAMPS

19. (1) Where the duty with which an instrument is chargeable depends in any manner upon the duty paid upon another instrument, the payment of such last-mentioned duty shall, upon application to the Board and production of both the instruments, be denoted upon the first-mentioned instrument in such manner as the Board thinks fit.

When duty on one instrument depends on duty on another.

(2) Where, in any transaction relating partly to lands subject to the Real Property Act and partly to lands not subject to the said Act, two sets of instruments liable to the payment of stamp duty are required to be drawn up, the instruments made in pursuance of the Real Property Act shall not be chargeable with any stamp duty whatsoever if the instrument which is not subject to the said Act is fully stamped according to the true intent and meaning of the transaction. In every such case the Board shall write on the instrument made subject to the provisions of the Real Property Act the words "Stamp duty paid", and thereupon such instrument shall be deemed to be stamped with such duty.

Land partly under Real Property Act. Ch. 56:02.

Auditor General may admit unstamped voucher.

20. The Auditor General in the examination of any accounts may admit and allow, in cases where it appears to him to be reasonable and expedient for the public service, vouchers for any moneys expressed therein, although such vouchers are not stamped according to law. All vouchers so admitted and allowed shall be admissible in evidence in any Court of law.

ADJUDICATION STAMPS

Assessment of duty by Board.

21. (1) Subject to such regulations as may be prescribed, the Board may be required by any person to express its opinion with reference to any executed instrument upon the following questions:

- (a) whether it is chargeable with any duty;
- (b) with what amount of duty it is chargeable.

(2) The Board may require to be furnished with an abstract of the instrument, and also with such evidence as it may deem necessary, in order to show to its satisfaction whether all the facts and circumstances affecting the liability of the instrument to duty, or the amount of the duty chargeable thereon, are fully and truly set forth therein.

(3) If the Board is of opinion that the instrument is not chargeable with any duty, it may be stamped with a particular stamp denoting that it is not chargeable with any duty.

(4) If the Board is of opinion that the instrument is chargeable with duty, it shall assess the duty with which it is in its opinion chargeable, and when the instrument is stamped in accordance with the assessment it may be stamped with a particular stamp denoting that it is duly stamped.

(5) Subject to the provisions of subsection (6), every instrument stamped with the particular stamp denoting either that it is not chargeable with any duty, or is duly stamped, shall be admissible in evidence and available for all purposes notwithstanding any objection relating to duty.

(6) (a) An instrument upon which the duty has been assessed by the Board shall not, if it is unstamped or insufficiently stamped, be stamped otherwise than in accordance with the assessment.

(b) Nothing in this section shall extend to any instrument chargeable with ad valorem duty and made as a security for money or stock without limit, or shall authorise the stamping after the execution thereof of any instrument which by law cannot be stamped after execution.

(c) A statutory declaration made for the purpose of this section shall not be used against any person making the same in any proceeding whatever, except in an enquiry as to the duty with which the instrument to which it relates is chargeable; and every person by whom any such declaration is made shall, on payment of the duty chargeable upon the instrument to which it relates, be relieved from any fine or disability to which he may be liable by reason of the omission to state truly in the instrument any fact or circumstance required by this Act to be stated therein.

(7) Any person who is dissatisfied with the assessment of the Board may, within twenty-one days after the date of the assessment, and on payment of duty in conformity therewith, appeal against the assessment to the Appeal Board, and may for that purpose require the Board to state and sign a case, setting forth the question upon which its opinion was required, and the assessment made by the Board.

Persons dissatisfied may appeal.
[29 of 1966].

(8) The Board shall thereupon state and sign a case and deliver the same to the person by whom it is required, and the case may within fifteen days thereafter be set down by the Board for hearing.

(9) Upon the hearing of the case the Appeal Board shall determine the question submitted and, if the instrument in question is in the opinion of the Appeal Board chargeable with any duty, shall assess the duty with which it is chargeable.

(10) If it is decided by the Appeal Board that the assessment of the Board is erroneous, any excess of duty which may have been paid in conformity with the erroneous assessment, together with any fine or penalty which may have been paid in consequence thereof, shall be ordered by the Appeal Board to be repaid to the appellant.

(11) The costs of and incident to an appeal shall be in the discretion of the Appeal Board.

PRODUCTION OF INSTRUMENTS IN EVIDENCE

Terms upon which instruments not duly stamped may be received in evidence. [13 of 1958].

22. (1) Upon the production of an instrument chargeable with any duty as evidence in any Court of Civil Jurisdiction, or before any arbitrator, notice shall be taken by the Judge, Magistrate or arbitrator, of any omission or insufficiency of the stamp thereon, and if the instrument is one which may legally be stamped after the execution thereof, it may, on payment to the officer of the Court whose duty it is to receive or read the instrument, or to the arbitrator, of the amount of the unpaid duty and the penalty payable on stamping the same and of a further sum of five dollars, be received in evidence, saving all just exceptions on other grounds.

(2) The officer, or arbitrator, receiving the duty and penalty shall give a receipt for the same, and shall communicate to the Board the name or title of the cause or proceeding in which, and of the party from whom, he received the duty and penalty, and the date and description of the instrument, and shall pay over to the Board the money received by him for the duty and penalty.

(3) On production to the Board of any instrument in respect of which any duty or penalty has been paid, together with the receipt, the payment of the duty and penalty shall be denoted on the instrument.

(4) The decision of the Judge, Magistrate or arbitrator as to the necessity or sufficiency of a stamp upon any document, or as to the amount payable as stamp duty thereupon, shall be final.

(5) Save as aforesaid, an instrument executed in any part of Trinidad and Tobago, or relating, wheresoever executed, to any property situated, or to any matter or thing done or to be done, in any part of Trinidad and Tobago, shall not, except in criminal proceedings, be given in evidence or be available for any purpose whatever, unless it is duly stamped.

23. (2) The High Court may, upon application to be made for that purpose on behalf of the Board, upon such affidavit as may appear sufficient, grant a rule requiring any such person as aforesaid, or the officer of any Court or the executor or administrator of any such person or officer, to show cause why he should not deliver to the Board an account upon oath of all stamp duties and sums of money received by such person or officer, and why the same should be forthwith paid to the Board; and the High Court may make absolute any such rule, and enforce by attachment or otherwise the payment of any such duties or sums of money as on such proceedings may appear to be due, together with the costs of the proceedings.

Meaning of "conveyance on sale".

40. (1) For the purposes of this Act, the expression "conveyance on sale" includes every instrument, and every decree or order of any Court, whereby any property, or any estate or interest in any property, upon the sale thereof is transferred to or vested in a purchaser, or any other person on his behalf or by his direction.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a conveyance on sale made for any consideration in respect whereof it is chargeable with ad valorem duty and in further consideration of a covenant made by the purchaser to make, or of his having previously made, any substantial improvement of or addition to the property conveyed to him, or of any covenant relating to the subject matter of the conveyance, is not chargeable with any duty in respect of such further consideration.

Calculation of duty in respect of stock and securities.

41. (1) Where the consideration, or any part of the consideration, a conveyance on sale consists of any stock or marketable security, the conveyance is to be charged with ad valorem duty in respect of the value of the stock or security.

(2) Where the consideration, or any part of the consideration, for a conveyance on sale consists of any security not being a marketable security, the conveyance is to be charged with ad valorem duty in respect of the amount due on the day of the date thereof for principal and interest upon the security.

42. (1) Where the consideration, or any part of the consideration, for a conveyance on sale consists of money payable periodically for a definite period not exceeding twenty years so that the total amount to be paid can be previously ascertained, the conveyance is to be charged in respect of that consideration with ad valorem duty on such total amount.

How consideration consisting of periodical payments to be charged. [13 of 1958].

(2) Where the consideration, or any part of the consideration, for a conveyance on sale consists of money payable periodically for a definite period exceeding twenty years or in perpetuity, or for any indefinite period not terminable with life, the conveyance is to be charged in respect of that consideration with ad valorem duty on the total amount which will or may, according to the terms of sale, be payable during the period of twenty years next after the day of the date of the instrument.

(3) Where the consideration, or any part of the consideration, for a conveyance on sale consists of money payable periodically during any life or lives, the conveyance is to be charged in respect of that consideration with ad valorem duty on the amount which will or may, according to the terms of sale, be payable during the period of twelve years next after the day of the date of the instrument.

(4) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, no conveyance on sale chargeable with ad valorem duty in respect of any periodical payments, and containing also provision for securing the payments, is to be charged with any duty in respect of such provision, and no separate instrument made in that case for securing the payments is to be charged with any higher duty than five dollars.

Duty where property conveyed in separate parcels.

44. (1) Where property contracted to be sold for one consideration for the whole is conveyed to the purchaser in separate parts or parcels by different instruments, the consideration is to be apportioned in such manner as the parties think fit, so that a distinct consideration for each separate part or parcel is set forth in the conveyance relating thereto, and such conveyance is to be charged with ad valorem duty in respect of such distinct consideration.

(2) Where property contracted to be purchased for one consideration for the whole by two or more persons jointly, or by any person for himself and others, or wholly for others, is conveyed in parts or parcels by separate instruments to the persons by or for whom the same was purchased for distinct parts of the consideration, the conveyance of each separate part or parcel is to be charged with ad valorem duty in respect of the distinct part of the consideration therein specified.

(3) Where there are several instruments of conveyance for completing the purchaser's title to property sold, the principal instrument of conveyance only is to be charged with ad valorem duty, and the other instruments are to be respectively charged with such other duty as they may be liable to, but the last-mentioned duty shall not exceed the ad valorem duty payable in respect of the principal instrument.

Sub-purchases.

(4) Where a person having contracted for the purchase of any property, but not having obtained a conveyance thereof, contracts to sell the same to any other person, and the property is in consequence conveyed immediately to the sub-purchaser, the conveyance is to be charged with ad valorem duty in respect of the consideration moving from the sub-purchaser.

(5) Where a person having contracted for the purchase of any property, but not having obtained a conveyance, contracts to sell the whole, or any part or parts thereof, to any other person or persons, and the property is in consequence conveyed by the original seller to different persons in parts or parcels, the conveyance of each part or parcel is to be charged with ad valorem duty in respect only of the consideration moving from the sub-purchaser thereof, without regard to the amount or value of the original consideration.

(6) Where a sub-purchaser takes an actual conveyance of the interest of the person immediately selling to him, which is chargeable with ad valorem duty in respect of the consideration moving from him, and is duly stamped accordingly, any conveyance to be afterwards made to him of the same property by the original seller shall be chargeable only with such other duty as it may be liable to, but the last-mentioned duty shall not exceed the ad valorem duty.

Sale of annuity or right not before in existence.

46. (1) If in connection with a scheme for the reconstruction of any company or companies or the amalgamation of any companies it is shown to the satisfaction of the Board that there exist the following conditions, that is to say:

Relief from transfer stamp duty in case of reconstructions or amalgamations of companies. [14 of 1952 17 of 1985]. Ch. 3:03 s.21.

- (a) that a company with limited liability is to be registered, or the nominal share capital of a company has been increased;
- (b) that the company (in this section referred to as “the transferee company”) is to be registered or has increased its capital with a view to the acquisition either of the undertaking of, or of not less than ninety per cent of the issued share capital of, any particular existing company;

- (c) that the consideration for the acquisition (except such part thereof as consists in the transfer to or discharge by the transferee company of liabilities of the existing company) consists as to not less than ninety per cent thereof—
- (i) where an undertaking is to be acquired in the issue of shares in the transferee company to the existing company or to holders of shares in the existing company; or
 - (ii) where shares are to be acquired in the issue of shares in the transferee company to the holders of shares in the existing company in exchange for the shares held by them in the existing company, then, subject to the provisions of this section, stamp duty under the heading “Conveyance or transfer on sale of any property” in the First Schedule to this Act shall not be chargeable on any instrument made for the purposes of or in connection with the transfer of the undertaking or shares or on any instrument made for the purposes of or in connection with the assignment to the transferee company of any debts, secured or unsecured, of the existing company, nor shall any such duty be chargeable on any instrument vesting, or relating to the vesting of, the undertaking or shares in the transferee company:

Provided that—

- (a) no such instrument shall be deemed to be duly stamped unless either it is stamped with the duty to which it would but for this section be liable or it has in accordance with the provisions of section 21, been stamped with a particular stamp denoting either that it is not chargeable with any duty or that it is duly stamped; and
- (b) the provisions of this subsection shall not apply unless the instrument is either—
 - (i) executed within a period of twelve months from the date of the registration of the transferee company or the date of the resolution for the increase of the nominal share capital of the transferee company, as the case may be; or

- (ii) made for the purpose of effecting a conveyance or transfer in pursuance of an agreement which has been filed, or particulars of which have been filed, with the Registrar of Companies within the said period of twelve months; and
- (c) the foregoing provision with respect to the release and assignment of debts of the existing company shall not, except in the case of debts due to banks or to trade creditors, apply to debts which were incurred less than two years before the proper time for making a claim for exemption under this section.

(2) For the purposes of a claim for exemption under subsection (1), a company which has, in connection with a scheme of reconstruction or amalgamation, issued any unissued share capital shall be treated as if it had increased its nominal share capital.

(3) A company shall not be deemed to be a particular existing company within the meaning of this section unless it is provided by the memorandum of association of the transferee company that one of the objects for which the company is established is the acquisition of the undertaking of, or shares in, the existing company, or unless it appears from the resolution for the increase of the capital of the transferee company that the increase is authorised for the purpose of acquiring the undertaking of, or shares in, the existing company.

(4) Where a claim is made for exemption under this section, the Board may require the delivery to it of a statutory declaration in such form as it may direct, made by an Attorney-at-law of the Supreme Court and of such further evidence, if any, as the Board may reasonably require.

(5) If in any case—

- (a) where any claim for exemption from duty under this section has been allowed, it is subsequently found that any declaration or other evidence furnished in support of the claim was untrue in any material particular, or that the conditions specified in subsection (1) are not fulfilled in the reconstruction or amalgamation as actually carried out; or
- (b) where shares in the transferee company have been issued to the existing company in consideration of the acquisition, the existing company within a period of two years from the date, as the case may be, of the registration or of the authority for the increase of the capital, of the transferee company ceases, otherwise than in consequence of reconstruction, amalgamation, or liquidation, to be the beneficial owner of the shares so issued to it; or
- (c) where any such exemption has been allowed in connection with the acquisition by the transferee company of shares in another company, the transferee company within a period of two years from the date of its registration or of the authority for the increase of its capital, as the case may be, ceases, otherwise than in consequence of reconstruction, amalgamation or liquidation, to be the beneficial owner of the shares so acquired, the exemption shall be deemed not to have been allowed, and an amount equal to the duty remitted shall become payable forthwith, and shall be recoverable from the transferee company as a debt due to the State, together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent a year from the date on which it would have become chargeable if this section had not been enacted.

(6) If in the case of any scheme of reconstruction or amalgamation the Board is satisfied that at the proper time for making a claim for exemption from duty under subsection (1) there were in existence all the necessary conditions for such exemption other than the condition that not less than ninety per cent of the issued share capital of the existing company would be acquired by the transferee company, the Board may, if it is proved to its satisfaction that not less than ninety per cent of the issued capital of the existing company has under the scheme been acquired within a period of six months from the earlier of the two following dates, that is to say:

- (a) the last day of the period of one month after the first allotment of shares made for the purposes of the acquisition; or
- (b) the date on which an invitation was issued to the shareholders of the existing company to accept shares in the transferee company, and on production of the instruments on which the duty paid has been impressed, direct repayment to be made of such an amount of duty as would have been remitted if the said condition had been originally fulfilled.

(7) In this section—

“shares” includes stock;

“undertaking of an existing company” includes part of the undertaking of an existing company.

46A. Notwithstanding anything in the Act, stamp duty under the heading “Conveyance or transfer on sale of any property” in the Schedule to the Act shall not be chargeable on any instrument made for the purposes of or in connection with the transfer of a tourism project referred to in section 6(1) of the Tourism Development Act.

CONVEYANCES ON ANY OCCASION EXCEPT SALE OR MORTGAGE

47. Every instrument, and every decree or order of any Court, whereby any property on any occasion, except a sale or mortgage, is transferred to or vested in any person, is to be charged with duty as a conveyance or transfer of property; but a conveyance or transfer made for effectuating the appointment of a new trustee or the retirement of a trustee is not to be charged with any higher duty than five dollars.

Conveyance or transfer in contemplation of sale to attract ad valorem stamp duty. [1 of 1986].

47A. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, any instrument whereby property is conveyed or transferred to any person in contemplation of a sale of that property shall be treated for the purposes of this Act, as a conveyance or transfer on sale of that property for a consideration equal to the value of the property, and the instrument shall be charged with duty accordingly.

(2) Where on a claim made to the Board not later than two years after the making or execution of an instrument chargeable with duty in accordance with subsection (1), it is shown to the satisfaction of the Board—

- (a) that the sale in contemplation of which the instrument was made or executed has not taken place and the property either—
 - (i) has been re-conveyed or re-transferred to the person from whom it was conveyed or transferred, or
 - (ii) has been conveyed or transferred to some other person in whom the rights of the person referred to in subparagraph (i) have been vested upon death or bankruptcy, or
- (b) that the sale has taken place for a lesser consideration than that on which duty was paid on the instruments, the Board shall in a case contemplated by paragraph (a) refund the duty paid and subject to subsection (3) in a case contemplated by paragraph (b) refund that portion of the duty as exceeds the duty which would have been payable if the instrument had been stamped in respect of the consideration for the sale.

(3) In a case falling within subsection (2)(b) the duty shall not be refundable if it appears to the Board that the circumstances are such that a conveyance or transfer on the sale in question would have been chargeable with duty under section 48.

(4) No instrument chargeable with duty in accordance with subsection (1) shall be deemed to be duly stamped unless the Board has been requested to express its opinion thereon under section 21 and has expressed its opinion thereon in accordance with that section.

(5) The foregoing provisions of this section shall apply whether or not an instrument conveys or transfers other property in addition to the property in contemplation of the sale of which it is made or executed but those provisions shall not affect the stamp duty chargeable on the instrument in respect of that other property.

(6) For the purposes of section 48 and of subsection (1), the value of property conveyed or transferred by an instrument chargeable with duty in accordance with either of these provisions shall be determined without regard to—

- (a) any power (whether or not contained in the instrument) on the exercise of which the property or any part of or any interest in the property may be re-vested in the person from whom it was conveyed or transferred or on his behalf; or
- (b) any annuity reserved out of the property or any part of it or any life or other interest so reserved, being an interest which is subject to forfeiture, but where on a claim made to the Board not later than two years after the making or execution of the instrument, it is shown to the satisfaction of the Board that any such power as is mentioned in paragraph (a) of this subsection has been exercised in relation to the property and the property or any property representing it has been re-conveyed or re-transferred in the whole or in part in consequence of that exercise, the Board shall refund the stamp duty paid by virtue of this subsection, in a case where the whole of such property has been so re-conveyed or re-transferred, so far as it exceeds the stamp duty payable apart from this subsection, and in any other case, so far as it exceeds the stamp duty which would have been payable if the instrument had operated to convey or transfer only such property as is not so re-conveyed or re-transferred.

How duty is chargeable when residential property is used as commercial property. [35 of 1998].

47B. (1) Notwithstanding anything in this Act, where residential properties are converted to commercial use the tax chargeable shall be—

- (a) if the conversion took place within one year the rate applicable for commercial properties; and
- (b) if the conversion took place after one year but within two years one-half of the rate payable for commercial properties.

(2) It shall be the duty of the purchaser to inform the Board of any alteration in the use of any residential property for commercial purpose and if he fails to do so he shall be liable to a fine of fifteen thousand dollars.

GIFTS INTER VIVOS

Stamp duty on gifts inter vivos.

48. (1) Any conveyance or transfer operating as a voluntary disposition inter vivos shall be chargeable with the like stamp duty as if it were a conveyance or transfer on sale, with the substitution in each case of the value of the property conveyed or transferred for the amount of value of the consideration for the sale.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in section 21, the Board may be required to express its opinion under that section on any conveyance or transfer operating as a voluntary disposition inter vivos, and no such conveyance or transfer shall be deemed to be duly stamped unless the Board has expressed its opinion thereon in accordance with that section.

(3) Where any instrument is chargeable with duty both as a conveyance or transfer under this section and as a settlement under the heading “Settlement” in the Schedule, the instrument shall be charged with duty as a conveyance or transfer under this section, but not as a settlement under the said Schedule.

(4) Any conveyance or transfer (not being a disposition made in favour of a purchaser or encumbrancer or other person in good faith and for valuable consideration) shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a conveyance or transfer operating as a voluntary disposition inter vivos, and (except where marriage is the consideration) the consideration for any conveyance or transfer shall not for this purpose be deemed to be valuable consideration where the Board is of opinion that by reason of the inadequacy of the sum paid as consideration or other circumstances the conveyance or transfer confers a substantial benefit on the person to whom the property is conveyed or transferred.

(5) A conveyance or transfer made for nominal consideration for the purpose of securing the repayment of an advance or loan or made for effectuating the appointment of a new trustee or the retirement of a trustee, whether the trust is expressed or implied, or under which no beneficial interest passes in the property conveyed or transferred, or made to a beneficiary by a trustee or other person in a fiduciary capacity under any trust, whether expressed or implied, or a disentailing assurance not limiting any new estate other than an estate in fee simple, in the person disentailing the property, shall not be charged with duty under this section, and this subsection shall have effect notwithstanding that the circumstances exempting the conveyance or transfer from charge under this section are not set forth in the conveyance or transfer.

DUPLICATES AND COUNTERPARTS

49. The duplicate or counterpart of an instrument chargeable with duty (except the counterpart of an instrument chargeable as a lease, such counterpart not being executed by or on behalf of any lessor or grantor) is not to be deemed duly stamped unless it is stamped as an original instrument, or unless it appears by some stamp impressed or writing under the hand of the Board thereon that the full and proper duty has been paid upon the original instrument of which it is the duplicate or counterpart; but the instruments referred to in section 19(2) shall be exempt from the operation of this section.

(3) A lease or agreement for a lease made either wholly or partially for any such consideration, if it contains a statement of the value thereof and is stamped in accordance with the statement, is, so far as regards the subject matter of the statement, to be deemed duly stamped, unless or until it is otherwise shown that the statement is incorrect, and that the lease or agreement is in fact not duly stamped.

53. (1) A lease, or agreement for a lease, or with respect to any letting, is not to be charged with any duty in respect of any penal rent, or increased rent in the nature of a penal rent, thereby reserved or agreed to be reserved or made payable, or by reason of being made in consideration of the surrender or abandonment of any existing lease, or agreement, of or relating to the same subject matter.

55. For the purposes of this Act, the expression "mortgage" means a security by way of mortgage for the payment of any definite and certain sum of money advanced or lent at the time, or previously due and owing, or forborne to be paid, being payable, or for the repayment of money to be thereafter lent, advanced or paid, or which may become due upon an account current, together with any sum already advanced or due, or without, as the case may be; and includes—

(2) A security for the payment of any rent-charge, annuity or periodical payments, by way of repayment, or in satisfaction or discharge of any loan, advance or payment intended to be so repaid, satisfied or discharged, is to be charged with the same duty as a similar security for the payment of the sum of money so lent, advanced or paid.
