12. (1) The assessment of the amount of compensation shall be made in accordance with the following rules: Rules of assessment

- (a) the value of land shall, subject as hereinafter provided, be taken to be the amount which the land, if sold in the open market by a willing seller, in the condition in which it was, might be expected to realize at the date of the taking of possession of the land under section 4(1) or the date of publication in the Gazette of the declaration made under section 5(3), whichever is the earlier;

- (b) the special suitability or adaptability of the land for any purpose shall not be taken into account if that purpose is a purpose to which it could be applied only in pursuance of statutory powers, or for which there is no market apart from the special needs of a particular purchaser or the requirement of the Government or any department of Government or any local or public authority;
- (c) where the value of the land is increased by reason of the use thereof or of any premises thereon in a manner which could be restrained by any court, or is contrary to law, or is detrimental to the health of the inmates of the premises or to the public health, the amount of that increase shall not be taken into account;
- (d) where land is, and but for the compulsory acquisition would continue to be, devoted to a purpose of such a nature that there is no general demand or market for land for that purpose, the compensation may, if a Judge is satisfied that reinstatement in some other place is bona fide intended, be assessed on the basis of the reasonable cost of equivalent reinstatement;
- (e) no allowance shall be made on account of—
 - (i) the acquisition being compulsory or the degree of urgency or necessity which led to the acquisition;
 - (ii) any disinclination of any person interested to part with the land acquired;

- (iii) any damage sustained by any person which, if caused by a private person, would not render such person liable to an action;
- (iv) any damage, not being in the nature of deprivation or of interference with an easement or legal right, which after the time of awarding compensation is likely to be caused by or in consequence of the use to which the land acquired will be put;
- (v) any increase to the value of the land acquired likely to accrue from the use to which the land acquired will be put; or
- (vi) any outlay or improvement on such land which has been made, commenced or effected before the date of the taking of possession of the land under section 4(1) or the date of publication in the Gazette of the declaration made under section 5(3), whichever is the earlier, with the intention of enhancing the compensation to be awarded therefor in the event or with a view of such land being required for public purposes.

(2) The rule set out in subsection (1)(a) does not affect the assessment of compensation for any damage sustained by a person interested by reason of severance, or by reason of the acquisition injuriously affecting his other property or his earnings, or for disturbance or any other matter not directly based on the value of the land.

(3) In making an assessment under this Part, the Judge shall—

(a) take into account—

- (i) lawful existing use of the land;

(5) For the purposes of this section there shall be a presumption that an improvement to land was made at the time reflected for that improvement in the assessment rolls maintained in accordance with the Lands and Buildings Taxes Act.

(6) In a dispute as to the amount of compensation payable, the burden of proving that an improvement was not made at the time referred to in subsection (5) is on the person interested.

(7) Any interested person may apply to the Minister in such form as may be prescribed, for a certificate stating the use which might have been permitted by the Minister in respect of the land acquired had application for planning permission been made under the Town and Country Planning Act.

(8) On receipt of an application made under subsection (7) the Minister shall, within one month of its receipt or such longer period as may be agreed in writing by the parties and the Minister, issue to the applicant a certificate in such form as may be prescribed, stating in respect of the land, the use that might have been permitted by the Minister had application for planning permission been made under the Town and Country Planning Act.

(9) In this section "Minister" means the Minister to whom responsibility for planning is assigned.

13. (1) Subject to section 15, no account shall be taken of any increase or diminution in the value of the land acquired which is attributable to the carrying out or the prospect of the carrying out of so much of a scheme of development as would not have been likely to be carried out if the acquiring authority had not acquired or did not propose to acquire any of the land authorized to be acquired under the scheme. Change in value disregarded

(2) In this section—

(a) "land authorized to be acquired" means the aggregate of the land comprised in the authorization, including the land acquired; and

(b) "scheme of development" means a scheme involving compulsory acquisition of land for public purposes which includes the land acquired.

Contiguous or adjacent land

Subject to section 15, where on the date of the taking of possession of the land under section 4(1) or the date of publication of the declaration under section 5(3), whichever is the earlier, the owner of the acquired land is also the owner of other land contiguous or adjacent to the acquired land, there shall be added to or deducted from the amount of compensation which would be payable apart from this section, the amount, if any, of such an increase or diminution as the case may be, in the value of that other land as is attributable to the carrying out or the prospect of a scheme of development to which section 13 applies.

Subsequent acquisition

15. (1) Where an increase in the value of other land has been taken into account by virtue of section 14, then, in connection with any subsequent acquisition to which this subsection applies, that increase shall not be left out of account by virtue of section 13 or taken into account by virtue of section 14, in so far as it was taken into account in connection with the previous acquisition.

(2) Where, in connection with the compulsory acquisition of land, a diminution in the value of other land has been taken into account in assessing compensation for injurious affection, then, in connection with any subsequent acquisition to which this subsection applies, that diminution shall not be left out of account by virtue of section 13 in so far as it was taken into account in connection with the previous acquisition.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) apply to any subsequent acquisition where either—

(a) the land acquired by the subsequent acquisition is the same land the value of which was previously taken into account whether the acquisition extends to the whole of that land or only to part of it; or

(b) the person entitled to the land acquired is, or derives title to the land from the person who at the time of the previous acquisition was the owner of the land the value of which was previously taken into account, and, in this subsection, any reference to the land, the value of which was previously taken into account, is a reference to the land in respect of which the increased or diminished value was taken into account as mentioned in subsection (1) or subsection (2), respectively.

(4) Where in connection with an acquisition of land for public purposes by private treaty, the circumstances were such that if it had been a compulsory acquisition, an increase or diminution of value would have fallen to be taken into account as mentioned in subsection (1) or subsection (2), this section applies with the necessary modifications, as if that acquisition had been a compulsory acquisition and that increase or diminution of value had been taken into account accordingly.

16. (1) No account shall be taken of any ^{Depreciation} depreciation of the value of the land acquired which is attributable to the fact that whether by way of designation, allocation or other particulars contained in the operative development plan made under the Town and Country Planning Act or by any other means, an indication has been given that the land is or is likely to be acquired by an authority possessing powers of compulsory acquisition.

(2) In this section "operative" has the meaning assigned to that expression in section 7(6) of the Town and Country Planning Act.

Severance

17. (1) Regard shall be had not only to the value of the land acquired, but also to any damage sustained by the owner of the land by reason of the severing of the land acquired from other land of the owner or otherwise injuriously affecting that other land by the exercise of powers of compulsory acquisition.

(2) Where land is acquired or taken from any person for the purpose of works which are to be situated partly on that land and partly elsewhere, compensation for injurious affection of land retained by that person shall be assessed by reference to the whole of the works and not only the part situated on the land acquired or taken from him.

(3) Compensation referred to in subsection (2) may be assessed on the footing that any specified works, crossing or access agreed to on behalf of the Commissioner shall be erected, provided or allowed.

(4) Any agreement under subsection (3) shall be reduced to writing and if signed by a Judge shall be valid and effectual and binding on the Commissioner and on the claimant and his successors in title.

(a) if caused by a private person, would not render such person liable to an action; or

(b) is caused by the user of the land acquired.

19. (1) For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared Acquisition under special powers that if—

- (b) things have been done in relation to the land in the exercise of the special powers while possession was retained or the land was used, no greater sum is payable to any claimant by way of compensation in respect of the acquisition than would have been payable if no such things had been done and, in particular but without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing words, in assessing compensation in respect of the acquisition, no increase in the value of the land attributable to the things done in relation to the land or to the improvements made thereto in the exercise of the special powers during such period shall be taken into account.

(2) In this section the expression “special powers” means any powers conferred by—

- (d) where the compensation is payable under section 18(1), from the date of the claim until payment of the compensation.

(3) In a case coming within subsection (2)(b), the Judge has a discretion whether or not to include any interest and as to the rate provided it does not exceed nine per cent or such other rate as the Minister to whom responsibility for finance is assigned may, from time to time, determine by Order, and in exercising this discretion the Judge shall have regard inter alia to—

- (b) any circumstances which would justify an order that the claimant should bear his own costs;

- (c) the conduct of the claimant generally in relation to his claim and to the proceedings; and
- (d) whether the claimant continued in beneficial enjoyment of the land in whole or in part after the date of publication in the Gazette of the declaration published under section 5(3).

24. (1) Where, by reason of the disability or incapacity of any person, proceedings under this Act to determine the compensation payable to him cannot be taken by him or on his behalf, the compensation to be paid to him shall be such as is determined under this section, but, subject to the provisions of section 23, nothing in this section shall prejudice the right of such person to institute any such proceedings if his disability or incapacity ceases, or the right to institute any proceedings of any other person who is not under any disability or incapacity.

Compensation in

(2) A Judge, on the application of the Commissioner and upon proof to the satisfaction of the Judge that the compensation payable to any person fails to be determined under this section, may with one or more assessors make an assessment of the compensation payable and shall determine the compensation payable in the light of the assessment or assessments so made.

(3) The costs of every such application, including the fees of the assessor or assessors, shall be borne by the Commissioner.

(4) Any compensation awarded under this section shall be paid by the Commissioner into the court to the credit of the person entitled and may, on the subsequent application of any person claiming to be entitled to the compensation, be paid out to the person entitled on the order of a Judge.

(3) The costs of any issue as to the existence of or title to any interest in land acquired shall not form part of the costs of proceedings taken for the determination of the compensation payable, but shall be separately determined and shall be in the discretion of a Judge.

(4) No order for the payment of the whole or any part of the costs of any issue referred to in subsection (3) shall in any event be made by the Judge against the Commissioner in any case where the issue is between adverse claimants for compensation.

(5) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), where an unconditional offer in writing of any sum as compensation to any claimant has been made by or on behalf of the Commissioner and the sum awarded as compensation does not exceed the sum offered, the Judge shall, unless for special reasons he thinks proper not to do so, order the claimant to bear his own costs and to pay the costs of the Commissioner so far as the costs of the Commissioner were incurred after the offer was made.

(6) Where the claimant has failed to put forward a proper claim in sufficient time to enable the Commissioner to make a proper offer under subsection (5), subsections (2), (3) and (4) shall apply as if an unconditional offer had been made by or on behalf of the Commissioner at the time when in the opinion of the Judge a proper claim should have been put forward and the claimant had been awarded a sum not exceeding the amount of such offer.

(7) Subject to subsection (2), where a claimant has made an unconditional offer in writing to accept any sum as compensation and has put forward a proper claim in sufficient time to enable the Commissioner to make a proper offer, and the sum awarded is equal to or exceeds that sum, the Judge shall, unless for special reasons he thinks proper not to do so, order the Commissioner to bear his own costs and to pay the costs of the claimant so far as the costs of the claimant were incurred after the offer was made.

(8) Subject to this section, costs shall be in the discretion of the Judge who may direct to and by whom and in what manner those costs or any part thereof shall be paid.

(9) Where the Judge orders the claimant to pay the costs or any part of the costs of the Commissioner, the Commissioner may deduct the amount so payable by the claimant from the amount of compensation payable to him.

(10) Without prejudice to subsection (9), all costs shall be recoverable as though they were costs awarded in an action in the High Court.

(11) For the purposes of this section, "costs" includes fees, charges and expenses.
