No. 21—1959

[L.S.]

I ASSENT,

E. B. BEETHAM
Governor.

25th November, 1959.

AN ORDINANCE to amend the Excise (General Provisions)
Ordinance, Ch. 32. No. 8.

[3rd December, 1959.]

ENACTED by the Governor of Trinidad and Tobago with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Excise (General Provisions) (Amendment) Ordinance, 1959, and shall be read as one with the Excise (General Provisions) Ordinance, hereinafter referred to as the Principal Ordinance.

Commencement.
Enactment.

Short Title.

Ch. 32.
No. 8.

Section 3 of Principal Ordinance amended.

2. Section 3 of the Principal Ordinance is hereby amended by deleting the definitions of "I.P.T. Test K.7" and "I.P.T. Test G.3", "other petroleum products", "petroleum oil" "petroleum spirit" and inserting in their appropriate alphabetical order the following new definitions:—

"I.P. Test" means the standard method of test for any characteristic of a derivative of crude oil from time to time adopted by the Institute of Petroleum and appearing in its publication "Standard Methods for Testing Petroleum And Its Products";

"other petroleum products" means derivatives of crude oil whether manufactured by refining or otherwise, which have a distillation end point exceeding 330° Centigrade by I.P. Test and also any blended product which, from its nature, the Petroleum Technologist is satisfied is unsuitable for use as petroleum spirit or petroleum oil;

"petroleum oil" means a derivative of crude oil, whether manufactured by refining or otherwise, which having a flashpoint of 95° Fahrenheit or more, either has a distillation end point not exceeding 330° Centigrade by I.P. Test or of which 10 per centum by volume or more distils at a temperature not exceeding 200° Centigrade by I.P. Test and includes any petroleum products to which the definitions "petroleum spirit" and "other petroleum products" do not apply;

"petroleum spirit" means a derivative of crude oil, whether manufactured by refining or otherwise, which has a flashpoint below 95° Fahrenheit by I.P. Test and includes casing head petroleum spirit;".

Passed in Council this twenty-third day of October, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-nine.
